

62730

Michael Kaeding • Johannes Pollak •
Paul Schmidt
Editors

Enlargement and the Future of Europe

Views from the Capitals

17.226918

 Springer

Contents

Part I Member States

Enlarging and Reforming the European Union: An Austrian Perspective	3
Katrin Auel and Paul Schmidt
Belgium: If the Enlargement Process Is Broken, Then Fix It	7
Jean-Louis De Brouwer
Bulgaria's Attitude Towards EU Enlargement	11
Ivan Nachev and Hristo Panchugov
Croatia: Between Proclaimed Enthusiasm and Reality on the Ground	15
Hrvoje Butković
The National Debate in Cyprus on the Future of EU Enlargement Policy	19
Giorgos Kentas
The Czech Approach to EU Enlargement: Full Steam Ahead!	23
Zdeněk Sychra and Petr Kratochvíl
Denmark's Position on Enlargement	29
Zlatko Jovanovic and Marcus Popov Damgaard
Estonia: Supporting Fast-Track Enlargements	33
Viljar Veebel
Finland Should Focus on EU Reforms Ahead of Enlargement	39
Juha Jokela
What Infuriating French Reluctance Reveals	43
Christian Lequesne and Olivier Rozenberg
Strong Tailwinds for EU Enlargement in Germany: But EU Membership Has a Price Tag	47
Funda Tekin

Greece, EU Enlargement and the ‘Thessaloniki Promise’	51
Daniel Furby and Dimitris Tsaknis
Enlargement at All Costs? A View from Hungary	55
Veronika Czina, Tamás Szigetvári, and Gábor Túry
Further Enlargement of the European Union: The View from Dublin	61
John O’Brennan
Beyond ‘Enlargement Fatigue’: A View from Rome	65
Matteo Bonomi
Head and Heart in the Right Place: Latvia on the EU Enlargement	71
Aleksandra Palkova and Karlis Bukovskis
Lithuania’s Strong Support for the EU’s ‘Open Door’ Policy: How to Make Use of the Geopolitical Window of Opportunity	75
Ramūnas Vilpišauskas
Luxembourg: Get Ready to Enlarge	79
Guido Lessing
Malta and Enlargement: Supportive But Not Engaged	83
Mark Harwood
Direction East: Polish Views on the EU’s Enlargement Policy	87
Natasza Styczyńska
Portugal: Nobody Talks About Enlargement	91
Alice Cunha
Romania’s Constant Support for the Enlargement Process: A Proof of Investment in European Values	95
Mihai Sebe and Eliza Vaş
Slovakia’s Approach to EU Enlargement: From Strategic Passivity and Declaratory Supporter into the Reformist Vanguard	99
Matej Navrátil and Lucia Mokrá
Slovenia: A Strong Defender of Western Balkan Enlargement	103
Maja Bučar and Boštjan Udovič
Spain: From a Reluctant Supporter to a True Defendant of Enlargement?	107
Raquel García Llorente and Ignacio Molina
Sweden and EU Enlargement: A Strong Supporter Walking a Fine Line	111
Calle Håkansson

Strict, Fair, Engaged. . . And Still Without a Vision? A View from the Netherlands on EU Enlargement and Its Neighbourhood	115
Giselle Bosse

Part II EU Neighbours

What Is Holding Back Albania?	123
Tanushe Muhametaj

Between Hopes and Frustrations: Bosnia's Path to the EU Is No Shorter Despite EU Candidacy Status	127
Vedran Džihic

Seizing the EU Enlargement Momentum: Georgia's Prospects for Joining the European Family	131
Irakli Sirbiladze, Mariam Khotenashvili, and Elene Panchulidze

Iceland's Passive Supportive Approach: Vocal with Others on Ukraine	135
Baldur Thorhallsson

Kosovo's Leap of Faith for EU Membership	139
Naim Rashiti

How Should the EU Support Moldova's Path Towards Accession?	145
Iulian Groza and Mihai Mogildea

The Scramble for Enlargement: Montenegro	149
Danijela Jacimovic and Zorica Kalezic

North Macedonia: Stuck on the EU's Doorstep?	153
Irena Rajchinovska Pandeva

Norway: A Non-member But Active Supporter of EU Enlargement	157
Pernille Rieker

Serbia on a Rocky Road to the EU	161
Milena Mihajlovic

Switzerland: Not a Candidate But a Partner in EU Enlargement	165
Frank Schimmelfennig

Schrödinger's Candidate: Türkiye's Awkward Situation Within the Enlargement Debate	169
Özgehan Şenyuva and Ali Baydarol

On the Outside Looking in: The United Kingdom After Brexit	175
Brendan Donnelly

EU Enlargement Considering New Realities: The Ukrainian Direction	179
Yuriy Yakymenko and Mykhailo Pashkov	